Program Note

One of the less-explored emotions in contemporary classical music is joy. Perhaps this is understandable; in a world of seemingly inescapable violence, lingering oppression, and diminishing interest in art, it can be hard to find reasons to "make a joyful noise."

When I was asked to compose a piece for the 20th anniversary of the Spiritus Chamber Choir, a choir in which I sang for four years, I decided to write with unapologetic joy. The Benedicite is a canticle from the Book of Daniel. It's a text that celebrates all of God's creations: light and dark, fire and ice, human and animal. This broad celebration of life seemed a perfect text to celebrate a choir and, more broadly, all people who come together to sing.

The piece opens with explosive canons in the string orchestra, and the antiphonal oboe and trumpet herald the choir's entrance. This opening refrain, which celebrates the heavens, recurs throughout the piece, contrasted with slower and more colorful sections that explore earthly creations.

Zachary Wadsworth's "vivid, vital, and prismatic" music has established him as one of the leading composers of his generation, especially among those writing vocal, choral, and operatic works. With recent performances by the choir of Westminster Abbey, the Washington National Opera Chorus, Boston Metro Opera, Long Leaf Opera, the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra, and the Atlanta Philharmonic Orchestra, his works have been heard in venues around the world, from Washington's Kennedy Center to Tokyo's Takinogawa Hall.

As winner of the 2011 King James Bible Trust Award, Wadsworth's anthem Out of the South Cometh the Whirlwind was performed at Westminster Abbey in the presence of Queen Elizabeth II. Other recent honors include a Charles Ives Scholarship from the American Academy of Arts and Letters, three Morton Gould Young Composer Awards from ASCAP, and first-prize recognition in competitions sponsored by the American Composers Forum, the Pacific Chorale, the Boston Choral Ensemble, and the Esoterics. Wadsworth's music is widely broadcast and distributed, with recent publications by Novello, G. Schirmer, and E.C. Schirmer, and broadcasts on NPR, BBC, and CBC.

Wadsworth earned graduate degrees from Cornell University (DMA) and Yale University (MM), and is an honors graduate of the Eastman School of Music (BM). Originally from Richmond, Virginia, Wadsworth (b. 1983) has taught at Williams College, the Interlochen Center for the Arts and the University of Calgary, and he maintains an active performing life as a tenor and pianist.
